READY TO PASS THE RATE BILL

FINAL ACTION TO BE TAKEN TO DAY

A Fierce Struggle to Amend Various Paragraphs But All Are Voted Down—Five Hours of Oratory.

Washington, Feb. 7.—By continuing its session practically to 7 o'clock the house concluded all preliminary steps to the passage of the railroad rate bill, ordered a roll call on the measure and put off final action until tomorrow at noon.

The time for amendment came at 4 o'clock and for three hours following one amendment after another came up, was read, debated in some instances, and went down to defeat. So fierce was the struggle to amend that often when a paragraph of the bill was concluded in the reading a dozen members waived their amendments and shouted for recognition. Not one of these was adopted. They contained all manner of propositions, such as regarding preferential, long and short hauls, free passes, coast procedure, whole freight bills and parts of bills. All went "by the board."

Previous to these exciting proceedings the house had been entertained for five hours by the oratory of its best speakers. Cochran, of New York, gave his approval to the measure in a speech of 15 minutes, followed by Minority Leader Williams expounded the measure and congratulated everybody on its success. Hepburn closed the debate in a comprehensive speech dealing with the arguments of its opponents and terms of the bill. Throughout the session the attendance of members was large and the galleries were crowded.

Debate on the rate bill in the house was concluded by Williams in behalf of the Democrats, and Hepburn, who had the measure in charge.

Williams summarized the bill and all that had been done by congress and went over the ground that had been debated at length during the past ten days, and concluded with the expression of hope that the house would stay in session until the beginning of the next session before it would yield to an amendment which might be put on in the senate, the effect of which might be to weaken the bill.

Hepburn began the concluding speech on the bill at 2:45 o'clock. He expressed the hope the bill might be read and passed to day. Hepburn took up in turn points made in opposition to the bill and disposed of each in a brief manner. First he deprecated the effort to claim political credit. He reviewed the progress and development of the roads during the past twenty years to show the interstate commerce act of that time had not impeded railroad progress. Turning his attention to the remarks of Cochran, he administered what he termed a rebuke against the effort to detract from the dignity of the courts. He summed up Littlefield's objection to be that opposed to building New England enterprises, which he (Littlefield) admitted were built up through discrimination against the south. In this connection he showed the immense strides of the cotton spinning industry in the south. Touching upon the construction of roads, which had been made a point of opposition, Hepburn declared the utter futility of getting legislative immunity on that point. He asserted that a member of the house could write a twenty word sentence that would not be capable of two constructions. "You doubtless have heard the story of the little girl whose people were to move to Missouri, and who prayed, 'Good bye, God, we are going to move to Missouri.' (Laughter). Her brother heard her and in his joy at the prospect of travel amended the prayer in this way: 'Good, by God, we are going to move to Missouri!'" (Prolonged laughter).

Hepburn dissected the bill Sulzer had introduced and advocated, with the conclusion it accomplished nothing. Hepburn then went through the bill, pointing out its provisions. He was questioned closely by Shiley, of Kentucky, and Sullivan, of Massachusetts, regarding the right of the carrier to get into the courts. He maintained no court rights were lost under the bill. He concluded with expression of the hope that the bill would be sent to the senate without amendment. Hepburn concluded at 4 o'clock, but asked at once for the reading of the bill. Grosvener, of Ohio, stated he had reconsidered his intention to offer an amendment prohibiting railroad officials from owning industrial properties along the lines of their roads.

An amendment was presented by Underwood, of Alabama, extending regulations of the existing laws and the proposed bill to express companies. Hepburn declined to discuss the matter. He had stated, he said, the reason why the amendment ought not to be adopted. Townsend made the statement that the bill really included express companies and Pullman cars under the language, "instrumentalities" of traffic. The amendment was defeated, 119 to 146.

Among other amendments donated were:

LIVELY TIMES IN THE SENATE

ARRAIGNMENT OF PATTERSON BY BAILEY.

Lack of Harmony Among Democratic Senators—Action of Recent Caucus the Subject for Discussion.

Washington, Feb. 7.—To day for the first time in years the senate chamber was made the scene of an effort to administer party discipline to a member of that body, and the occurrence was one of so many dramatic details that the many witnesses will not soon forget it. Patterson was the subject of the effort and Bailey, to whom, in the absence of Gorman, the Democratic leadership is conceded, was the instrument of his party in the incident. The proceeding arose in connection with consideration of Patterson's resolution of remonstrance against the caucus action on treaties with foreign nations.

The Colorado senator to day called up his resolution immediately after conclusion of the routine morning business and addressed the senate upon it. The facts concerning the caucus proceedings of Saturday and his withdrawal from the caucus were fresh in the minds of the senators. Patterson's speech was in the main an elaboration of his resolutions and he contended stoutly for the right of a senator to follow the dictates of his own conscience rather than the demands of his party in all matters regarding which the two may be in conflict.

It was not until after he had concluded that the proceedings took on an air of intensity and excitement. Bailey, as well as most members of his party had interpreted Patterson's resolutions as a deliberate reflection upon the Democratic caucus and from the moment Bailey arose he assumed an aggressive and somewhat taunting manner toward the Colorado senator. His speech was based upon the theory that all senators are under obligations to obey their conscience rather than the caucus, but that in doing so they antagonize their party and should hold themselves responsible to their party; but the speech was more notable for its arraignment of Patterson for his course than for its adherence to any line of argument. Bailey charged the senator from Colorado with having been party to the adoption in a previous caucus of a rule binding Democratic senators to the two-thirds rule. This charge and Patterson's response to it constituted a most dramatic incident and feeling throughout the senate chamber was very intense until the climax was passed.

Patterson failed to recall the proceedings of the previous caucus, but Bailey, colleague, Culberson, was prepared with a copy of those proceedings, and when he had exhibited it Patterson said he would undertake to dispute the record. He was inclined at first to charge complexity to disengage him before his colleagues in the country, but afterward said he was not so much concerned over this apparent inconsistency on his own part as he was over the fact that the proceedings of the matter would have upon the main, which was to exhibit to the country the danger there is in caucus dictation.

DOMINICAN TREATY.
The Dominican treaty was taken up to day by the senate committee on foreign relations with a view to perfecting it as far as possible to meet the views of those who favor its ratification. It will be considered article by article.

PARDON RECOMMENDED.
Secretary Bonaparte to day recommended to the president the pardon of Midshipman Meriwether, convicted of hazing and sentenced to dismissal from the Naval Academy. The secretary said there is room for reasonable doubt as to whether the acts were committed with criminal intent. The secretary says that "Since the court has found with approval of the superintendent of the academy, that the accused is seeking to comply with the admonition given him by a previous court-martial, the department feels the ends of justice would be more nearly attained by the exercise of executive clemency in this case than by execution of the sentence of dismissal." The recommendation for clemency was applied by the court to its sentence of dismissal.

CAPITAL NOTES.
The senate public building committee to day favorably reported an appropriation of $40,000 for a federal building at Alexandria, Minn.; also a bill granting a military reservation, known as Ft. Brady, to the city of Saint Ste. Marie, Mich., as a site for a public building.

Feb. 7 has been fixed by the house judiciary committee as the time for the hearing on the Hepburn and Littlefield bills to prevent C. O. D. shipments of liquor into prohibition districts.

MINISTER IN TROUBLE

Pastor of Waukegan Congregational Church Arrested by Federal Officers.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Rev. Justin G. Ware, pastor of the First Congregational church of Waukegan, Ill., was arrested to day by postoffice officials on a charge of sending obscene literature through the mails. When arraigned before United States Commissioner Foster, Ware said the handwriting of the letters was similar to his, but he could not remember writing those particular letters. He also said insanity ran in his family.

The arrest of the minister was based on two letters sent to Andrew Koho Barry, living in Bloomington, Ill., and invited him to come to Waukegan to visit the writer. The boy was arrested some days ago in this city while acting in a suspicious manner and the letters which led to the arrest were found in his pocket.

ENGINEER TRANSFERRED.
St. Louis City, Iowa, Feb. 7.—J. H. W. Chittenden, United States engineer in charge of the entire Missouri river and its tributaries and improvement work at Yellowstone Park, has been transferred to Savannah, Ga. Chittenden has been in St. Louis City six years.

TRIAL OF PACKERS.
Chicago, Feb. 7.—The reading of the report of the beef inquiry made by Commissioner Garfield occupied the entire day in the packers' case and when court adjourned for the day a large part of the report remained to be read.

TOO MUCH RED TAPE

Canal Building Discussed by Former Chief Engineer Wallace Before Committee.

Washington, Feb. 7.—John Findley Wallace, former chief engineer of the Inland canal commission, to day concluded his testimony before the senate canal committee, except in relation to the type of canal, which will be taken up after reports of the board of consulting engineers have been made public. Wallace said the red tape necessary to the system involved in governmental work compelled him to favor the contract plan of building the canal in order to expedite its completion. He thought the man in charge of the work on the isthmus should be the undisputed head. The headquarters of the commission should be on the isthmus, Wallace said, and the harder communication with Washington the less the work would be retarded. He thought the engineer in charge was not paid an excessive salary.

Discussing rates on the Panama railroad, he thought there should be no classification of freight in the schedules, but that a charge of $2 a ton should be made. He compared the Panama railroad to railroads of the United States as a grain of sand to the seashore, and continued:

"If this government cannot deal with rates on that little road in a satisfactory manner, it had better leave the railroad systems of the United States alone."

WILL GO TO CUBA.
Washington, Feb. 7.—The transport Sumner will sail from New York to morning morning carrying a party of distinguished officers of the United States army and navy to participate in the exercises attending the dedication of a battle monument at El Caney, Cuba. The Cuban government itself will take an active part in the ceremonies. Permission has been granted by the Cuban government to land United States sailors and marines from warships in the harbor to participate in the parade.

MUTINOUS SAILORS

Trouble Said to Have Existed on Cruiser Marblehead.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 7.—It is stated on what is believed to be good authority that a condition of mutiny existed among the sailors of the cruiser Marblehead, while on her recent trip in southern waters. The Marblehead, Captain Mulligan, reached this port to day and anchored apart from other vessels of the Pacific squadron now here. While in Pichilingue bay, it is said, all but ten of the 225 sailors refused to participate in coaling the vessel, giving as their reason lack of shore leave and the absence of fresh vegetables since the cruiser was last at San Francisco. Several sailors were interviewed, and while none denied there had been mutiny on board, all were averse to discussing the affair, though several admitted the report was correct. Captain Mulligan said there was no trouble.

At Pichilingue bay, the sailors say, while nobody refused to coal the ship, most of them worked so lazily that the job took five days instead of one, and much of the coal with which the Marblehead was charged was dumped into the sea instead of into her bunkers. Punishments of various sorts were meted out with a liberal hand and when the vessel arrived at San Diego to day she brought a thoroughly exasperated crew. The greater number of the men have only three or four months to serve and declare they will not reshlp.

COAL FOR CHICAGO.
Chicago, Feb. 7.—The greatest supply of coal in the history of Chicago is being gathered here in anticipation of the coal miners' strike April 1. Within the next sixty days, it is estimated that nearly a million tons of coal will have been stored away in Chicago. There are 450,000 tons of hard coal now stored in Chicago and hundreds of car loads are being pushed here daily.

MEET IN SEATTLE NEXT YEAR.
New York, Feb. 7.—The trustees of the United Society of Christian Endeavor unanimously decided upon Seattle, Wash., as the place of the next general convention in 1907.

DISPUTE SETTLED

Monuments Inscribed as Iowa Regiment's Desire.
Washington, Feb. 7.—Secretary Taft has advised Senator Dooliver and Representatives Hull and Lacey, of Iowa, that he will order monuments on the Shiloh battlefield to the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Iowa regiments inscribed with the time of the regiments' arrival as desired by those organizations, stating in the statement that the time is that given by the commanding colonels. The war department records do not agree with the claims of members of the regiments and Taft's action settles a dispute of long standing.

MINERS FAIL TO TAKE ACTION

IN CASE OF OFFICERS ACCUSED OF TREASON.

President Dolan and Vice President Bellingham Still in Office—Meeting was One of Disorder and Bitterness.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 7.—Delegates of district No. 5, in another day of their convention, failed to arrive at any definite action upon the method to oust President Dolan and Vice President Bellingham and made an attempt to bolt the convention and elect other officers. The latter move was frustrated by National Vice President Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America, who arrived here this morning. Lewis was dispatched here by President Mitchell upon receipt of appeals by telegram from some of the delegates to the local convention.

To day's meeting, like the three preceding, was one of disorder and bitterness. Repeated resolutions in one form and another were offered, all having for their object the removal of Dolan and Bellingham, and were refused recognition by the chair. A resolution from eight locals of the districts was also presented, calling for the officers' removal and these, too, were refused recognition.

Lewis remained passive at the convention until cries to bolt the convention were raised, and then in a brief speech he urged moderation and asked for delay until he heard again from Mitchell. The convention accepted his advice and adjourned until tomorrow. Lewis said to a representative of the Associated Press to night that he had received instructions from President Mitchell how to deal with the controversy of the miners in Pittsburg district No. 5, but had sent for further and clearer statements. He would not make them public until to morrow before the convention.

OIL TRUST STOCK INCREASED.

New York, Feb. 7.—Wall street has unofficial information that the Standard Oil company is preparing to increase its capital stock from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 by issuing six shares for each one now outstanding. It is not designed to raise immediately any money on this new issue, but simply to divide the present high priced shares into six and give them to the old stockholders.

The company has two objects in doing this. One is to try to dispel the public criticism that arises every time the Standard declares at 40 or 48 per cent dividend. The other is to bring about a scattering of the stock among a larger number of holders, so that there may be mission-aries in every town to help stem the rising tide of opposition to the trust.

When the present stock is cut up into sixths, the price will drop from 60, where it was Tuesday, to about 115 and the dividends, instead of being 40 per cent, will become about 7 per cent. No stockholder will be a loser because he will hold six times as many shares as before.

FUNERAL DATE SET

Copenhagen, Feb. 7.—The coffin containing the body of King Christian will, at the beginning of the service at Roskilde (former capital of Denmark), be placed before the high altar of the cathedral from whence it will be carried by dignitaries of the kingdom to its resting place on the east side of the church. Here it will be deposited within a handsome sarcophagus. The coffin is of massive oak, with two bronze plates inscribed with passages from the Bible. At the foot of the coffin is King Christian's monogram in gold characters. It is flanked with palms.

The royal family pay frequent visits to chapel ardente, where each morning daughters of the late king place fresh bouquets. A number of silver wreaths have been received and subscriptions have been opened for a golden wreath to be laid on the bier by school children.

FROM KOREAN EMPEROR.
London, Feb. 7.—Douglas Story, telegraphing to the Tribune from Chefoo, states that he has obtained from the emperor of Korea a document bearing the imperial seal, the original of which he says has proved before the British consul at Chefoo. In this document the emperor desires he signed or approved a treaty with Japan and "invites the great powers to exercise a joint protectorate over Korea for five years, with respect to control of Korean foreign affairs."

SWINDLE JEWELERS.
New York, Feb. 7.—When the beauties of the Imperial Trustee Underwriting scheme dined upon the shady quarters of the financial district there was a general yell of "Goslin" from those among others who regretted they hadn't thought of it first. Alfred K. Goslin was moved thereupon to deny formally that he had any connection with the scheme.

"You may say for me," he said in his offices on the seventh floor of the Morton building, where he is now ensconced as

LAWSON MAY CONTROL VOTING

HAS NECESSARY PROXIES FROM POLICY HOLDERS

Confers With Governor of Minnesota Concerning New York Life and Mutual Life Insurance Companies.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 7.—Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, held a conference with Governor Johnson to day. Immediately afterward Lawson left for Chicago. The subject of the conference was the forming of a committee of governors and other prominent men to investigate the affairs of the New York Life and Mutual Life Insurance companies. Lawson said that Governor Johnson consented to remain as a member of the committee. The names of other members of the committee are: Governor Broward of Florida, former Attorney General Frank S. Monnett of Ohio, Fremont Older of San Francisco. Governor Johnson said to the Associated Press after the conference that he was greatly impressed with the showing made by Lawson.

"I have agreed to remain on the committee," said the governor, "although I refused to act as chairman of it, as Lawson urged me to do, as it would take too much of my time away from the state." The governor has expressed the opinion Lawson has the necessary proxies from policyholders to control voting in the two big life insurance companies. "I believe Lawson has a card up his sleeve that will astonish the folks," added the governor.

THE PEORIA SUICIDE

Funeral of Dr. Simmons Will be Held Friday—Bank Depositors Will Lose Little.

Peoria, Feb. 7.—The funeral service for the late Dr. George Simmons, whose suicide created a sensation Tuesday, will be held from the First Baptist church Friday morning. The storm of protests raised in the church this morning when there was talk of holding the services in the church has quieted down and there will be no serious objections.

The verdict of the coroner's jury was death from convulsions of potassium, taken with suicidal intent.

Coroner Baker intended to bring the boys who preferred charges against Simmons, into the coroner's court, to have them repeat the story they are alleged to have told "the state's attorney," but owing to the strong opposition to this by the friends and congregation of Dr. Simmons, the plan was not carried out.

The members of Simmons' congregation are divided into two factions, one consulting the friends of the dead pastor and the other his bitter enemies. The former firmly refuse to believe the charges against the minister, while the latter are active in bringing new accusations against him. A factional fight in the church is threatened, over the objections of his enemies, who positively refuse to allow the funeral to be conducted at the church, while the friends are equally insistent that the funeral be held there.

A mass meeting of depositors of the People's Savings bank, of which Simmons was chief owner, was held to night and a report made there indicating the bank will pay from 80 to 90 cents on the dollar.

FOUND DEAD IN HOME.

Dothan Ala., Feb. 7.—Waltering in their own blood, their hands almost severed from their bodies, the corpses of J. M. Christmas, wife and son were discovered to day at their home near Cottonwood, Ala. The murders were committed some time last night and robbery is supposed to have been the motive. Details are meagre and it is believed no definite clue has yet been obtained.

WEDDING PRESENT

Valuable Gift From French Republic for Miss Roosevelt—Cuba's Present.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Miss Alice Roosevelt yesterday received the wedding gift which the French government has intended for her. The gift consists of a beautiful gobelin representing "Justice," and was offered to Miss Roosevelt by Ambassador Jusserand. It was understood that President Roosevelt had informed several European powers it would not be agreeable if they sent especially expensive gifts, and accordingly most European governments are expected to send small gifts merely to express their good will and wishes to the daughter of America's first citizen. The French government had already given orders for the manufacture of this rare piece of tapestry. The piece, though not very large, is invaluable as that particular kind of gobelin is solely made for the French government on special occasions.

CUBA'S GIFT.
Havana, Feb. 7.—Dr. Ferer, Cuban minister to Paris, reported to day to President Palma he has purchased a collar of pearls as Cuba's wedding gift for Miss Alice Roosevelt, and that the gift would be forwarded to Mr. Jusserand, the Cuban minister at Washington.

INSTRUCTORS ARE OUT.

Dixon, Ill., Feb. 7.—Within the last few days the situation at the Rock River Military academy has been clarified by the resignations of Dr. Eaton, headmaster of the school; G. S. True, professor of mathematics; and Capt. A. H. Mole, professor of music. These members of the faculty took the part of the students in the recent strike and stood out against Major Floyd, commandant. Father J. C. Hall, another member of the faculty, resigned and left the school several weeks ago.

The board of trustees has just held a meeting and J. M. Kinsely, a teacher of the South Dixon high school, was selected for headmaster of the academy. Kinsely for several years has been a district superintendent of the government schools in the Philippines islands.

The cadets all have agreed to support the new master in his efforts to build up the school.

DOWIE'S RIGHT HAND MAN.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—William Glenn Voliva, of Melbourne, Australia, is to be John Alexander Dowie's right hand man. Announcement was made to night at Zion City, Dowie's headquarters, that Voliva had been made deputy general overseer of Zionites throughout the world. This places Voliva above all other officers in the church save Dowie himself. Voliva arrived in San Francisco yesterday from Australia and is expected in Zion City Monday.

A DENIAL.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The German embassy denies that Germany has ordered all German officers in the United States to return at once as stated in a dispatch from Memphis to day. Any such order would have to go through the embassy here. The ambassador expects to night or to morrow a party of German officers, who, as guests of the emperor, are making a trip through the United States, and who will be among the guests at the white house to morrow night at the reception to the army and navy.

DR. CORBUS RE-ENGAGED.

Kankakee Ill., Feb. 7.—Dr. J. C. Corbus has been re-engaged as superintendent of the Illinois Eastern hospital at the first meeting of the new board of trustees. C. R. Miller resigned his position as purchasing agent to accept that of assistant to State Treasurer Small. Charles Armistage, a clerk under Miller, was appointed to the vacancy. D. H. Sunny of Chicago was elected president of the board.

A SHORT TRIAL.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 7.—The trial of Convicts Vaughn, Ryan and Raymond, charged with murder in connection with their attempted escape from the penitentiary last November, was postponed to day, three hours after the first witness took the stand. The case is now in the hands of the jury.

FIGHT ON FOOTBALL.

Iowa City, Iowa, Feb. 7.—The senate of the State university of Iowa tentatively adopted minor recommendations of the Chicago conference in reference to football and took the rest under advisement. It is believed all will be adopted Friday. The game is safe here.

WERE RELEASED.

New York, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Mahel Coleman and Frank Stanley, arrested last night charged with the larceny of $50,000 worth of gold mining stocks, were released to day after their examination in the police court.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

Edgar, Neb., Feb. 7.—Guy Carson, of this place, aged 15 years, was found last night frozen to death beside a haystack four miles east of this city. The boy had been visiting at Fairmont and started to walk home Saturday. It is thought he lay down by the stack to rest.

ANARCHISTS ARRESTED.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—Twenty leading anarchists were arrested to night in a police raid of a meeting of a circle of revolutionists. A quantity of bombs, dynamite and anarchist literature were seized.

NOT AFTER LEADERSHIP.

London, Feb. 7.—In a letter to Lord Ridsley, conservative and formerly home secretary, published to day, Joseph Chamberlain repudiates the notion that he is a candidate for the leadership of the unionist party.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Another Big Improvement Contemplated by Burlington—Will Change Apple Creek Bridge—Springfield After McKinley Car Shops.

Another big improvement in the Burlington between Waverly and Franklin is now being worked on by the Burlington people. At the present time the line between these two stations is in a bad shape and any thing but a straight, wide and level track will all be straightened out, especially in the Apple Creek neighborhood. At the Apple Creek bridge a train entering and leaving, goes around a curve, and if the train is any length at all it winds around and looks more like a letter "S" than a train.

E. C. Sloan, division engineer, B. F. Bond, foreman of construction, and D. P. Kilroy, right of way agent, went to Waverly yesterday afternoon to look over the ground, and O. C. Scudder, right of way agent, will go down this morning.

It is hoped, and thought by the officials that the land needed for this purpose will be easily obtained, as they wish to push the work as rapidly as possible.

With this improvement and the cut-off between Jacksonville it will take out most of the grades and curves between here and Waverly and the road will be in first class shape in every particular.

The Decatur Review says: It is beginning to leak out that the Binkness Men's association of Springfield a body that corresponds to the Chamber of Commerce in Decatur, is busy in an effort to get the McKinley syndicate to locate its car shops in this city. It is further whispered about that the Springfield people are making a stiff offer.

They say that the Springfield people will donate forty acres of land for the shops. In addition to this they will donate the right of way for a half mile about Springfield. The offer made by the Springfield people is worth $40,000, that is it will take that much money to get the property they propose to donate.

Charters have been taken out for a new railroad from Herron to Carversville, Ill., which in all probability will be built by the Burlington people. The Burlington has just recently finished a road from Centralia to Herron and this line will be a great thing for the Burlington people, enabling them to get into the Williamson coal fields.

ARCADIA.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Westcott spent Sunday at J. P. Nell's.
Erma Wolfe, the 5-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Wolfe, fell on the ice one day recently, severely cutting her head. Several stitches had to be taken in the wound, but it is healing nicely and no doubt will be well in a few days.

There has been quite a change in property ownership going on in our town recently. Henry Maul sold his property on the corner of Main street and Douglas avenue to J. J. Clark, consideration $750. And Edward Young sold his house and lots on South Main street to Tom Lacey for $825.

Leslie Hill has been helping Wayne Vineland out up a supply of wood, while Jim Evans is performing the same kind of work for Ellis Thompson.

John Burmeister and wife, from near Jacksonville, have been visiting the past week or so at George Burmeister's on North Main street.

The Local Items, in a recent copy of the Springfield State Journal, among other things, contained the following: "Mr. Charles Rudolph, of Arcadia, has been conducting revival meetings at this place, and from all reports his success is excellent." Now, really, that is news to us, for he has claimed right along that he had been conducting a school of instruction for Odd Fellows; but no doubt his modesty kept him from telling the true object of his mission. Under the circumstances we'll forgive Mr. Charles, and wish you success in your new line of work.

Clyde Rudolph has been on the sick list the past week or two.
Mrs. Deatherage and children, Ellen and Ruth, spent Saturday at Ed Westcott's, northwest of Arcadia.

The Republican primary for the nomination of a road commissioner and clerk in road district No. 2 will be held in the lower part of Odd Fellows' hall Arcadia, Monday, Feb. 16. The meeting will be called to order at 2 o'clock.

PRIMARY LAW ATTACKED.

An attack on the constitutionality of the primary election law passed by the last general assembly was made in the supreme court yesterday afternoon when a motion was filed in the name of the people on relation of Charles L. Breckenridge, against the board of election commissioners of the city of Chicago, for leave to file a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the election commissioners of Chicago to permit the socialist party to hold a primary election on Feb. 17, for the offices to be filled at the spring election in Chicago. The election board refused to grant the petition, holding it was made in conformity with the act of May 11, 1905, which was repealed by the act of May 13, 1906, the new primary election law.

The petitioner alleges that the new primary election law of May 13, 1906, is unconstitutional, and that it violates the constitution of the state of Illinois, by

THE EASY OIL.

Scott's Emulsion is the easy oil—easy to take, easy in action. Its use insures deliverance from the griping and nauseating sensation peculiar to the raw oil. Nobody who has any regard for their stomach thinks of taking cod liver oil in the old way when Scott's Emulsion is to be had. It is equally certain that no one having a regard for their health will accept a cheap emulsion of alcoholic substitute for Scott's Emulsion. It fulfills every mission of cod liver oil and more.

Nothing more than the one subject expressed in its title, because it attempts to lodge legislative power elsewhere than in the general assembly; that it attempts to indirectly require qualifications for the office of governor not required by the constitution; that it attempts to indirectly require qualifications for the office of governor not required by the constitution; that it attempts to impair the freedom and equality of elections; and that it is in contravention of the constitution of the United States by attempting to require qualifications for eligibility to the house of representatives not required by the constitution and attempts to deprive the citizens of the United States, and to deprive citizens of liberty and property without due process of law and by denying to citizens within the jurisdiction of the state of Illinois the equal protection of the laws.

SOME WRITERS DEAD.

Paul Dresser, the well known author of sentimental songs, died Jan. 30 as the result of a complication of diseases, at his home, 23 West One Hundred and Sixty street, New York city. He was born in Terra Haute, Ind., forty-seven years ago.

When he was a boy a troupe, giving a free show to advertise an oil can along and Dresser ran away from home with it. He started in to write songs, which made a hit in rural towns. Dresser branched out for himself in 1895 and wrote his first big success, "Swanee" (The Swanee River Song). He then joined Billy Rice's minstrel troupe as one of the end men. His next step was to make a hit with "I Believe It, for My Mother Told Me So." In 1898 he came to New York in a monologue act at a Bowery theater. He was next heard from with "The Convict and the Bird," "The Pardner Came Too Late," and "The Bird and the Actor." Dresser wrote among many other songs "Just Tell 'Em That You Saw Me," and followed it up with the biggest hit of his career, "On the Banks of the Wabash." Over 50,000 copies of this song have been sold. Dresser wrote nearly 300 songs during the Spanish-American war. He wrote "The Blue and the Gray." Dresser for several years had been the main part of the Dresser Music Publishing company in New York.

Simple Remedies For the Eradication of Pimples.

For those hateful little excrescences that appear on the face at intervals, the simplest remedy is at hand. The next time you are troubled in this way make a very strong solution of alum water, bottle and apply persistently. You will find that almost at once the little sore places begin drying up and shortly disappear under its magic influence.

So much for the outside, but you know the inside must be treated, too, or a new crop will appear more rapidly than you can charm them away even with alum water. For a cleansing agent nothing has been found better than the sulphur and molasses of our grandmother's day and when with modern wisdom you add to this an absorbing agent like charcoal you may feel assured that you are on the right track. Buy the finely powdered variety sold at drug stores and mix it with the sulphur in the proportion of two parts sulphur to one of charcoal. Combine with molasses and take one tea spoonful each day for three days in succession, then rest a day or two and resume. The pimples will not trouble you long under this treatment.

Blanching Vegetables.
Almost all vegetables are better for being blanched, especially Brussels sprouts, cabbage, turnips and cauliflower. The moment they are covered with very cold water and left there for a moment or two. Then pour off the water, cover them with a cream sauce and rub them. Sometimes if the vegetable is of a particularly rank flavor, it will be better for several successive blanchings in fresh water.

SPECIAL NOTICE

To All Former Students of the Woman's College.

You are cordially invited to attend one of the afternoon reunions given this week by President and Mrs. Barker to all who have ever attended the college. The hour is 3 o'clock. Those who attended from 1847 to 1875 are invited on Wednesday. Those who attended from 1875 to 1893, on Thursday. Those who have attended since 1893, on Friday.

MAY BETTER TO ESTATE.
Judge M. T. Layman received a letter from Attorney S. E. Flanagan, of Galatia, Spelling county, Ill., Wednesday stating that he represented a sister of the late Henry Washington and asking for particulars regarding his death and the amount of his estate. The letter did not give any details or even mention the name of the person who claimed to be a sister of the deceased.

IS NOW CONVALESCENT.
The many friends of Mrs. Ellen Ramsey, formerly of this city, now of Hopkinsville, Ky., will be glad to learn that a friend has received a letter from her, written about the 4th instant, stating that she is now able to be up and about her room, after a serious illness of several weeks' duration.

DO NOT NEGLECT A BAD COLD.
Never allow a cold to take its course. Too often at this season of the year its course is towards pneumonia. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will promptly cure your cold and counteract any tendency in this direction. There is nothing better for acute throat and lung troubles.

HINTS FOR FARMERS
Proper Feeding of Stock.
In feeding live stock all animals should have as much as they will eat up clean and never enough to waste. If when fed on concentrated food they begin to show their dislike to it the quantity should be diminished and bulky matter substituted, but everything depends upon the observation of the farmer, and it is easy for him to know how to regulate his manner of feeding. An important matter in measuring and weighing is the knowledge the farmer always possesses of what he is doing, and a memorandum book is a necessary adjunct to the system, which serves not only in summing up the amount of feeding material on hand, but also assists in the future management as well as being a guide in the rotation and selection of the crops most necessary for the succeeding year. Every farmer should know what he is feeding to his stock, its value and the benefit derived from it. Philadelphia Record.

Molasses For Pigs.
In a pig feeding experiment at Fort Collins, molasses from the sugar mill was utilized as a complement to corn and shorts. The molasses was mixed with water and the grain added, sufficient to make a thin slop. Molasses was also put in the drinking water, which was collected greatly by the pigs. After a time they would not drink water without it. The pigs averaged about three pounds each at the time the experiment began and 212 pounds each at the close. They were fed 107 days. It cost 83 pounds of grain and 18 pounds of molasses for each pound of gain. At local prices for the grain and molasses the cost of each pound of gain was 3.61 cents. Consider that no measure was used, these results show a high feeding value for molasses. The pork from these hogs was very good.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Monday was Tillman T. Simpson's 59th birthday. This of itself was of more than passing notice to him but his neighbors, among whom he stands high, took it upon themselves to give him a regular old fashioned surprise. The arrangements were in charge of Mrs. James Gibson and Mrs. J. J. Covington, who thought proper to invite about fifty of the elder residents of Greasy Prairie and vicinity, which was done.

Some of the younger people concluded it would also be proper to have themselves represented, so accordingly about fifty more, comprising all the young people of the vicinity were notified to be present and fail not. As a result 100 persons attended and all partook of a bountiful supper consisting of oysters, ice cream, cake and fruits, which was provided in abundance. Music, games and social conversation occupied the time until the hour of twelve notified them that all pleasant occasions like this must come to a close. It is impossible to give the names of all who attended, sufficient to say that the neighbors and friends will be sure to be on hand when another social affair is planned by Mesdames Gibson and Covington, and their able assistants.

MINISTER HAS RESIGNED. Springfield News: Rev. Alexander Allen has tendered his resignation as rector of Christ Episcopal church in order to accept the call that has been extended to him by St. Paul's church at Oakland, Cal.

The vestry of the church will hold a meeting later in the week and act on the resignation. This call follows a call extended to him from St. Stephen's church in Milwaukee several weeks ago. He declined that call.

Mr. Allen is well known in this city. He is an enthusiastic golfer and played in the Central Illinois tournament contest held here two years ago.

MEMBERS CAN DRAW PAY. In view of the recent opinion of Attorney General Stead to the effect that members of the state board of health were under the law, entitled to no pay per diem for services rendered in rating examination papers and in making sanitary investigations, and that if they had been drawing such pay, they had done it in violation of the law. The board will probably take the matter into the courts and fight for the last cent.

Dr. J. A. Egan, secretary of the state board of health, made the following statement:

"For the past fourteen years, the members of the state board of health, exclusive of the secretary, have been paid a per diem for time actually employed in the investigation of medical colleges and in duties in connection with the enforcement of the medical practice acts. The members have also been paid for rating examination papers. The payments have been made out of the funds received in the enforcement of the medical practice acts of 1887 and 1899.

"The law creating the state board of health in force July 1 1877 (known as the sanitary act), provides that the other members of the board shall receive no compensation for their services. The attorneys of the board of health have for several years past ruled that prohibition in the sanitary act of 1877, did not apply to services necessarily performed under the medical acts of 1887 and 1899, and the members have been governed by this ruling up to the end of 1905."

If every merchant would do a cash business it would be a blessing to humanity. As a general rule, the man who can get credit abuses the privilege. If he had to pay cash he would learn to economize and would finally learn to live within his means. A grocer claims he could do business for cash on half the money he now has invested and could afford to sell his goods cheaper. Not only do those who pay have to pay to what they consume themselves but they help make up the loss for those who never pay.

MATRIMONIAL

HUFF-MCLEAN.

Miss Barbara Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Huff, of this city, and Mr. William McLean, of Elm Grove, Ill., were united in marriage Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 9 p. m.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents on Sandusky street. Rev. R. F. Thrapp officiated, assisted by Mr. J. Phillip Read, who acted as interpreter for the company present. Only a few intimate friends and relatives were present. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huff and her quiet and womanly traits of character have endeared her to many and which will truly make her a real help-mate.

Mr. McLean is a faithful tiller of the soil and a man of industrious habits, and enjoys the esteem of all who know him.

Mr. and Mrs. McLean left Wednesday afternoon for their home where they expect to go to housekeeping at once.

BROWN-WALLS.

C. Lafayette Brown, of Virginia, and Miss Loretta Walls, of this city, were married Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Church of Our Savior, Very Rev. Dean Crowe officiating. They were attended by Miss Nellie B. Walls and Thomas F. Walls, sister and brother of the bride, and only a few near relatives were present.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. J. J. Walls, of North East street, and is a very charming young lady, whose lovable traits of character have endeared her to a host of friends who will unite in wishing her complete happiness. The groom is an industrious young man, who has spent his entire life in Virginia until the past two years, during which time he has been employed in this city.

He is one of Virginia's highly respected young men, and has many friends both there and in this city. He has been for about a year a valued employee in the restaurant conducted by B. F. Wooster.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside in this city.

"Homeseekers at the Grand to night.

There is a general determination among the farmers of the west who have to hire men for the season to do away with keeping a hired man's horse. This is a graft which has become a nuisance, as it is claimed that, having a horse, the man is too much given to night buggy riding, and in many cases the man's horse is fed and cared for at the expense of the farmer's own teams. We know of a number of men who the coming season will hire no man with a horse unless he will put the animal in and work it every day on the farm.

IN SOCIETY'S REALM

Delightful Reception Given to Alumnae by President and Mrs. Harker of the Woman's College—Other Social Gatherings.

The first in the series of three alumnae receptions to be given by President and Mrs. J. R. Harker of the Woman's college, took place Wednesday afternoon when a company of about forty alumnae enjoyed the delightful hospitality of the president and his charming wife. The invitations were extended to local alumnae who had graduated between the years 1847 and 1875.

Representatives were present from nearly all of the classes, among the honored guests being Mrs. M. A. Turley, who was a graduate of the first class.

Assisting Dr. and Mrs. Harker in the receiving line were Mrs. R. A. Gates, Mrs. Doering and Mrs. T. P. Carter, daughters of ex-President Demotte, who was one of the heads of the institution during this period.

The reception took place in the society halls at the west end of the main building, which are admirably adapted for such purposes and during the afternoon several musical numbers were given by the pupils of the College of Music. Light refreshments were served and the hours between 3 and 5 o'clock were spent in a very enjoyable manner.

This afternoon the guests will be limited to graduates under the administration of Dr. W. F. Short, and Dr. and Mrs. Short will be in the receiving line with the president and Mrs. Harker.

About thirty members and a number of invited guests of council No. 269, M. P. L., were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Elmgott, 609 South Fayette street, Wednesday evening. A very pleasant time was enjoyed at cards, and a program of literary and musical numbers was given. Refreshments were served.

Miss Alice Brooks entertained about fifteen couples Wednesday evening at her home, 1136 Elm street, in honor of her sister, Miss Emma Brooks, of Chicago. Progressive euchre was the entertainment provided and the company proved a delightful one.

The prizes were won by Mrs. Paris Sloan and Mrs. Patrick Quigley and Mr. John Sutter and Con Harrigan. Light refreshments were served and the party was a social event of much enjoyment.

A COMMUNICATION. Editor Journal: I was much interested in the article by Mrs. Julia Carter in the Sunday Journal, as all friends of the freedmen must have been.

In "the colonizationist," to whose house Professor Turner took the three women refugees, I thought, I recognized my grandfather. I telephoned to Mrs. Carter and learned that I was not mistaken; that he was Dr. Daniel C. Pierson, older in the First Presbyterian church, who "remembered that 'inasmuch' of the Master, took them in, warmed, fed and nursed them." Probably these were all the refugees he sheltered; but his son—my uncle, Axel Pierson—on more than one occasion, gave protection and help to the "brothers in black," and needed supplies were conveyed from my grandfather's to my uncle's house; raising an inquiry among the younger children of the family, "Why does father take such and such provisions to Axel? Doesn't he have enough of his own?"

I do not want the name of Pierson omitted from the list of esteemed "conductors of the U. G. B. R."

BUNCOED AGAIN. The manager of a New York theater tells the following story: During a performance of "Rip Van Winkle," by the late Joseph Jefferson, the manager, who was standing in the lobby, observed a countryman hovering about the entrance in an uncertain way. Finally, as with a determination to go to the limit, the countryman bought a ticket and entered the house. A little while after the manager happened to be in the lobby again, when the countryman came out with an expression of intense disgust upon his face.

"Well, how do you like the show?" the manager inquired with secret amusement.

"The irate farmer grew confidential. 'Say mister,' he replied, 'I'm goin' tew have a mighty hard time splainin' to Mandy what I done with them tew dollsies, but you can bet I won't tell her I paid it tew see an old feller fill up a 'licker an' go to sleep, when I could a-gone up ter ther tavern at ther Corners an' a-seed old Bill Hardtree dew it fer nothin'!"

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses its charm if the hair is crowned with a mass of scraggy and falling hair. It is known, is caused by a parasite that grows into the scalp to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality. The parasite seizes the germ thrown up in growing hair, and prevents its growth. It is called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop the hair from falling out, it must be killed. The Herpicide, an entirely new remedy of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the hair from falling out. It is a beautiful, pleasant, and safe remedy. Send for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Our Groceries Go Fast

That doesn't mean only that we have a quick delivery system but that they're in such demand that they don't remain in the store any length of time. That's the reason our stock is always fresh; that's the reason we can afford to sell low. The "nimble sixpence" brings us profits often, so we can afford to share them with our customers. Are you one? If not, we'd like you to be.

TRAFFIC IN IMMIGRANTS

Marcus Braun Tells Why They Are Told to Stay Aliens.

HOW EUROPE IS ENRICHED BY THEM

Inspector of Immigrants Says $500,000,000 Earned in the United States Was Sent in One Year to Austria-Hungary—Assured American Is Regarded as Merely a Foreign Colony.

The report of Immigrant Inspector Marcus Braun, recently received by the house, is a stinging rebuke upon the government of Italy and Hungary, says a Washington dispatch to the New York World. "Hungarians and Italians," he says, "are encouraged to refrain from becoming American citizens and urged to adhere to the principles of their home governments. Hungarians are advised to establish their own schools, churches, etc., to avoid the terrible danger of becoming naturalized in America."

Mr. Braun declares that while some European governments have laws ostensibly intended to restrict immigration they actually encourage it by keeping alive the patriotic spirit of their colonies by representing that unless they adhere to the principles of home patriotism their governments will leave them without protection in "barbaric America." This is especially true, Mr. Braun says, in Italy and Hungary. He asserts that these countries regard the United States in the attitude of adjuncts or colonies of their own, and by their instructions and teachings to immigrants benefit accrues to the home government to the detriment of the United States.

Speaking of emigration from Turkey, Asia Minor and Syria, Mr. Braun says the Armenians have invented a scheme whereby they can stay in Turkey and at the same time can defy Turkish laws. This consists of a large number of Armenians emigrating to the United States, and as soon as they have earned sufficient money for their need they return, supplied with American citizenship papers and continually conspire against the Turkish government under the protection of American citizenship.

The same is true in Syria and Palestine, he says, and he quotes the governor of Mount Lebanon as saying, "If this constant travel from Syria to and from the United States does not cease soon the United States had better annex the province of Lebanon, as at present there are more American citizens there than Turkish subjects."

In Jerusalem alone Mr. Braun found more than 1,000 "American citizens," and he declares that 90 per cent of them speak not a word of English, and most of them do not know the street of the city in which they claimed to have resided while in the United States. Mr. Braun declares upon the authority of bankers and steamship agents that the amount annually received in Italy from Italians in the United States averages $1 a day for every Italian in the United States.

It is openly stated, he says, in the Export Review, a semi-official organ of the Austrian government, that three-fourths of the immigrants leaving that country for the United States come under contract, and that paper adds, "God forbid that the American government should read this!"

Both Austrian and Hungarian governments keep watch over their people in America, and every effort is directed toward two objective points—namely, "to send us all the emigrants they possibly can for a temporary sojourn here to earn money with which to enrich the land of their nativity upon their return and, secondly, to prevent such emigrants from becoming American citizens." He cites the fact that $50,000,000 was sent last year from the United States to Austria-Hungary alone from these immigrants.

Violations of the immigrant law are not confined to Europe, but are rampant in America. Bankers, publishers of newspapers in foreign languages, foreign clergymen and others doing business here are ardent missionaries, inducing immigrants to come to the United States for purposes of exploitation and are equally interested in the return traffic. Among foreign priests it has become a favorite expression to speak of "our colonies in America."

Concerning the Russian law, however, Mr. Braun says, "Once he becomes a resident of this country he stays, and his children become among the most patriotic of our citizenship."

Based on the results of his investigation, Mr. Braun recommends "that the United States maintain abroad a secret surveillance of undesirable immigration, that a statute be enacted requiring aliens to produce at landing a certificate of origin from the nearest United States consul to be issued only in the event of satisfactory information being furnished the consul regarding the applicant by the secret service officials, that a bond of not less than $2,500 be required from all persons in the United States engaged in the sale of steamship tickets, forwarding money, contracting for labor, that it be made a criminal offense for any resident of the United States to travel abroad to entice immigration or to advise against naturalization and that the alien contract labor law be amended so that priests, ministers, clergymen and lecturers shall be eliminated from the exempt class unless they are bona fide visitors."

A Case of American Push

(Original.)

"It's no use, Pete; father is immovable. He wants me to marry some distinguished personage. He has always been sensitive about our family name and would like me to change it for a better one."

"Brown is better than Skrabbe."

"He doesn't think so. Mrs. Peter Brown would be but little improvement on Miss Alice Skrabbe."

This lover went away sorrowful.

One day Brown's eye fell on a paragraph in a newspaper that set him thinking. He thought all day and most of the night. When he awoke in the morning his thoughts went right on like an automobile in which the stopping apparatus has become unmanageable. He thought a whole week, at the end of which he brought his fist down on a table and exclaimed:

"I'll do it!"

From that time Brown's law partner noticed that he was paying very little attention to business. He seemed to be spending all his time searching for something. It was not a legal matter, for no legally drawn papers appeared to be passing through his hands. He received a great many letters, but never spoke of the contents of any one of them. Indeed, whatever was his purpose he kept it a profound secret.

Then suddenly Brown announced that he was going abroad. His partner, astonished and disheartened, threatened to dissolve the firm, complaining that Brown would leave him to do all the work—it was not onerous—and was keeping important matters from him.
Brown told him just enough to satisfy him, then suddenly disappeared.

Six months passed. The Skrabbe family, Alice excepted, had forgotten
Mr. Brown and were greatly pleased to have an opportunity to forget him.
His intimate friends wondered where he was and how he obtained the means to spend so much time away from home. Some one said that an uncle, his mother's brother, was furnishing him with money. This was true. The uncle supplied him with barely enough for his purpose. Brown's partner sat in his office waiting for clients who did not come and wished for Brown, who was a pushing fellow and had many ingenious methods of securing business. "Have you heard from Brown?"
everybody asked of everybody, and everybody replied: "No. Have you?"

"No. I wonder where he is and what he's up to." "Oh, he's got some wild scheme on hand. But, no matter how wild Brown's schemes, he has a way of carrying them out. He's probably getting a contract for replacing the street cars in some foreign city with American flying machines. But he'll do it. You bet, he'll work it through."

There was a good deal of such talk,
and the uncle who was "grab-banking," Brown looked very knowing whenever approached on the subject, but said nothing. All this increased the curiosity of Brown's friends and acquaintances.

One day a steamer arrived and in the passenger list published was the name of Sir Peter Brown. The name, in the minds of Brown's friends, had no connection with him, whatever.
Some of them saw it, but went on with their daily avocations just the same.
It occurred to the slightest ruffle among them, but the next morning a paragraph in a newspaper let out the secret of Brown's absence, and none of his friends did anything during the day except visit one another and gosip with mouth and eyes wide open upon this exploit. This was the paragraph referred to:

Our fellow citizen, Peter Brown, has just returned from a trip to England, where he has established his right to the baronetcy granted in 1893 to Hugh Brown, after the restoration of Charles II. for loyalty to the house of Stuart, dormant since 1783.

These few lines were quite enough to start every one who had ever heard of Peter Brown. For a week nothing else was talked of, and every one wondered that Brown had never been heard to claim any relationship whatever with any baronet. Meanwhile invitations were showered upon Sir Peter, and cards came from the Skrabbe family for a musicale. Sir Peter accepted, and during the evening he and the smiling Alice vanished into a corner by themselves.

"Come, tell me all about it," she asked.
"How did you ever do it?"

"One morning I read a paragraph in a newspaper stating that as the law of England now stands any man can assume with impunity some presumably fictitious or dormant baronetcy prior to 1783. A recent work, called 'Extinct and Dormant Baronetcies,' says that a thousand of these titles have lapsed between the original creation and the present day. Of these the majority became extinct or dormant before 1783.

Armed with as much information about my family as I could collect, I went to England to find the dormant Brown baronetcy. I lighted on the one granted Hugh Brown. I proved that my ancestors came from the same county and before I got through made the discovery that I am, really, Sir Peter Brown."

Alice Skrabbe clasped her hands, then threw her arms around her lover's neck.

"For few days the engagement of Sir Peter Brown and Alice Skrabbe was announced, and they were married in due time. Lady Brown was furnished with money by her father to buy the original Brown property, and the present Sir Peter Brown and his family live in England."

CARPENTERS' UNION

Enjoyed Oyster Supper at the Trades' Assembly Hall--Graphophone Concert. Feature of the Evening--Members Were Out in Force.

The Carpenter's union No. 004 met in the Trades Assembly hall on South Duval street Wednesday evening, and held a rousing good meeting after which an elegant oyster supper was served. At the meeting out of their eighty members about sixty-five were present. The regular business meeting was cut a little short and several talks were made, after which Mr. Brady and Mr. Mount, of the Brady Hardware company, who were present, favored the company with an elegant graphophone concert, which was highly appreciated. The meeting up stairs was then adjourned and all went to the large room below where an elegant oyster supper awaited them. About twenty gallons of oyster soup was prepared by Charles Button and every one present pronounced it first class. Raw oysters were also served to those who wanted them.

This is the second meeting of this kind that the union has had since their organization and they are gaining in favor so that the members have decided to make it an annual affair. This union has been organized for five years and started out with a small membership, but has in the last year or so grown to such an extent that they now boast of a membership of about eighty. They have gained for themselves quite a reputation and were among the prime movers in the building of the Trades Assembly hall, a building and home of which they are justly proud.

The attendance last night was larger than the committee in charge had anticipated, but all were well fed, and a general good time was enjoyed. After the supper was over Mr. Brady again started the graphophone cigars were passed and all smoked and listened to the music until a late hour.

The committee in charge of the supper to whom much credit is due for its success was as follows: Charles Nunes chairman, C. McEvers, E. P. Nunes and Patrick Devlin.

WOMEN TOO LENIENT.

"We want the women of this country to set a higher standard of respectability for men," declared Judge William M. McEwen in an address before the Chicago Woman's club the other day. "At present the women are too lenient toward and too forgiving of bad conduct."

Judge McEwen was discussing the possibilities of reducing crime in the United States, and his suggestion that the men be held to a stricter code of morals was greeted with applause by the club women.

"The crime we have most to fear," said the speaker, "comes from morbid conditions of men and boys who have been depraved by drink, vice and drugs. We must try to protect them by working among the younger generation. Every father should make a companion and confidant of his boy in order that the information about the functions and duties of life which he acquired shall not come from polluted sources."

INDICATIONS.

Washington, Feb. 8--For Illinois: Fair and warmer Thursday; Friday fair; fresh southwest to northwest winds.

A NICE PUZZLE.

The Fulton County Democrat presents the following to its readers:

One day when the sky was a cape south of Ireland I was sitting with a group of islands north of Australia in my lap under the shade of an island in the Mediterranean sea, amusing myself with a town in England, when I saw approach me an island west of England, dressed in a town in France, a mountain in Oregon, and a country in Africa about his neck. I found my friend to be a country in Germany, and I being fond of a group of islands in the Pacific, ordered supper, which consisted of a part of a river in Colorado, a lake in California, with a plentiful portion of a town in Michigan. For dessert we had a river in Africa, and three away a river in the German empire which was picked up by a country in Asia. After supper we enjoyed very pleasantly together a town in Cuba, after which he bade me a cape south of Greenland. The evening being warm I ordered a river of South America to prepare me a town in England, from which I took a harbor in Virginia, and was only relieved by a roasted river in Vermont.

Richard Witterstater sold to the Chicago Carnation association, of Joliet, Ill., the carnation "Aristocrat" for $35,000. It is a deep pink, and was produced at the Witterstater green house. The highest price previously paid for a carnation was the $30,000 Thomas W. Lawson paid for the one named after him.--N. Y. Tribune.

The late Bishop Mandell Creighton was once asked if he could state the difference between an Oxford man and a Cambridge man. The professor of the was then, immediately replied, "An Oxford man looks as if the world belonged to him; a Cambridge man as if he didn't care to whom the world belonged."

DEATH RECORD

BATTY.

Miss Bessie Batty died at the home of her step father, W. F. Sarff, east of the city Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the age of 18 years. Death resulted from tuberculosis.

The remains will be taken to Bath this morning for interment.

ELLIOTT.

Harry Elliott, aged 22 years, died Thursday morning at 1:45 o'clock at the residence of his step father, Henry Glassner, 726 North Main street. He had been ill since Saturday with pneumonia. He is survived by his mother and three sisters.

The American falls at Niagara are 1,000 feet across and 107 feet high. Fifteen per cent of the total flow of water passes over them. The Canadian falls are 1,010 feet across and 158 feet high. They carry 35 per cent of the total volume of water. If the grants for power now pending are allowed, the American falls will cease to exist.

Asked to define the word "gentleman" a wise old guy replied as follows: "A man who is clean both outside and inside; who neither looks up to rich or down to poor; who can lose without squealing and win without bragging; who is considerate of women, children and old people; who is too brave to lie, too generous to cheat, and who takes his share of the world and lets other people have theirs."

Carbolic Salve.

Cut a pound of mutton suet into fine shreds and put it in a stone or earthen jar. Place the jar in a pan of boiling hot water on the range, stirring frequently until there is enough of the mutton tallow to fill a half pint cup. Turn this tallow into a bowl, and as it begins to thicken beat into it a teaspoonful of carbolic acid. This is an excellent remedy for chapped hands, and it is also good to rub on the feet when they are tired.

BIGGEST THING YET

Great Numbers are Taking Advantage of Lace Curtain Sales.

There has seldom been a sale more popular with Jacksonville people than the big lace curtain sale now being conducted at Galbraith's furniture store. The entire stock of Phelps & Osburne, lace curtains, numbering over a thousand pairs, are being sacrificed at a price never before offered in this or any other city. The prices range from 32 cents to $2.50 and at the enormous reduction they are making on these goods, you will make money by buying now, even if you will not use them for a year to come.

Positively no greater bargains have ever been offered. Hundreds have made purchases and if you cannot find anyone who has taken advantage of these bargains come and see for yourself. The sale will continue the remainder of this week.

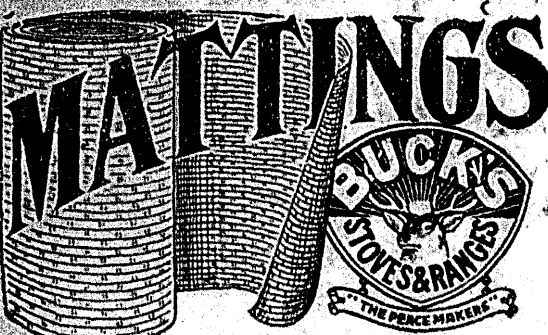

Judge Harry Higbee left recently for Washington on business and pleasure combined and while there will avail himself of the opportunity to be admitted to practice in the United States supreme court.--Pike County Democrat.

Washing Flannels.

For laundry purposes pure glycerin is simply invaluable, especially in the washing of blankets, flannels and all materials for which softened water is necessary. It is not extravagant, for a tablespoonful of the pure article in a large bucket, in which the blankets are to be washed, will prove exceedingly useful.

Chilblain Cure.

Water as hot as can be endured will take the itch and swelling out of toes and fingers, and a quick change to cold water will help to fortify them against the weather. Rubbing them in both hot and cold water "will help some."
